

"AND FURTHERMORE, I READ IT IN THE HATCHET!" Senator John Tower (R. Tex.) conservatively addresses the Colonial student body.

Sen. Tower Blasts Kennedy 'Count'; YR's Complete Successful Series

by Ted Jacquey

• "A CONSERVATIVE IS a conservative; being an Ultra-Conservative is like being called more perfect" said Senator John Tower last Tuesday night in an address at the Law School.

The event, sponsored by the University Young Republicans, was disappointing by the usual standards displayed by the YR's this year. The duration of Tower's visit was only about forty minutes. Also, the questions asked Tower were poor; the Senator was hardly given a sufficient vehicle to express his viewpoints. Nevertheless, the opportunity to hear Senator Tower's opening remarks more than justified the YR's efforts for this address. Don Larson, YR president, being the last year the Young Republicans have attempted to bring our party's point of view to our fellow students," said Larson. He promised to "continue our program next fall."

Senator Tower explained that he would follow the standard procedures of a short address and would then accept questions from the audience.

"Fellow Republicans and discerning Democrats . . . began the Senator. He first wanted to talk about Conservatives. "Senator Gore of Tennessee referred to me as an 'Ultra-Conservative'.

PiDE Taps

• PI DELTA EPSILON, national journalism honorary fraternity, has tapped members for their outstanding contributions in the field of collegiate journalism. To be considered, one must have worked for a complete year on a campus publication.

From the HATCHET, Eric Hoberger, sports editor, Jill Diskan, copy editor, and Mayer Liebman, advertising manager, were selected. Bonnie Baer and Sherry Glenn, next year's editors of the Cherry Tree, were chosen from that publication. Richard Zellner, editor, and Mike Steinman, prose editor are the Potomac representatives. John Wolfgang, editorial board, was selected from the Mechele civ.

Conservative is a Conservative; being an Ultra-Conservative is like being called more perfect."

A Texas paper, said the Senator, had referred to him as being "somewhat to the right of McKinley and to the left of Alfred the Great."

"Conservatism," continued the Senator, "is synonymous with progress. A free society can have more progress than any other kind of society, and we want to preserve freedom . . . That which has been proven to be good."

"We are not really stick-in-the-muds, we do not advocate that status quo," Tower insisted. "Barry Goldwater is a man who welcomes new ideas.

"I believe that the present Administration can be depicted as the true conservatives. We conservatives are today's true liberals." The Senator proceeded to say that the New Frontier was conceived by men who have no confidence in the rule by the people . . . They feel that you do not have the ability to govern yourself . . . In truth, they believe that Harvard professors can govern you better than you can.

"I do not mean to slur Harvard—it's a great institution, particularly since most of its professors have left Harvard and come to Washington."

Tower continued his attack. "There are . . . no real accomplishments of the New Frontier except one . . . and that is that they have perpetrated the greatest snow job on the American people."

"What has the Kennedy Administration accomplished?" asked the Senator. "Did they secure the downfall of Castro's Cuba—No . . . We got blamed for it, but they did not win it. If you're going to get blamed for something you might as well win it."

Keeping up his attack, he asked "what have they accomplished in the international sphere . . . They suddenly discovered that the missile gap was gone . . . We now have massive unemployment. We still have the lowest rate of capital investment of any major industrial country . . ."

"They have not accomplished anything," the Senator concluded. "What have they done for the United States . . . the best thing the Republicans can do for the President is to elect for him a Republican Congress."

Senator Tower closed his address by pointing out what he felt to be an inaccuracy in labeling. "They accuse us conservatives of being dragged kicking and screaming into the 20th century, but I seem to remember the Middle Ages where the Court ran everything."

Except in certain spots, the question and answer period did not measure up to expectations. One such "spot" was the Senator's reply to a question concerning his alternatives to the Kennedy programs. Tower emphasized his conviction that "We must stop debasing the currency . . . It is morally wrong to saddle unborn generations with these huge federal debts."

Senator Tower had said that he was "against our negotiating every time the Soviets rattled their sabers." He was asked what "he would do instead."

"I'd rattle it back at them," quickly returned the Senator. "These people have no real intentions of negotiating. They are waging a war of nerves with us. If every time they rattle their sabers we show willingness to negotiate, we are showing them weakness."

2150 Degrees Given

• APPROXIMATELY 1200 University students will receive degrees at the Commencement exercises June 6. With 523 degrees granted at the October, 1961, graduation and 427 degrees at the February, 1962, graduation, close to 2150 degrees will have been awarded this year.

At the Commencement there will be 71 AA's, 474 BA's, 447 MA's, 14 doctorates, and 76 Kaw and 96 medical degrees.

14 New Faculty Senators Elected

By Fred Sumner

• THE NEWLY FORMED Faculty Senate held its first procedural elections, to fill the vacancies created by the expiration of the one year tenure of office. In succeeding years the Senate representatives will function for two year terms.

Those members of the faculty elected to office by their fellows include: Roderic Hollett Davidson, Philip H. Huchill, Nels David Nelson, Ruben E. Wood and Helen Bates Yakobson all of Columbian College of Arts and Sciences; Harry Grubb Detwiler from the School of Education; James Carlton Dockery from the School of Government, Business and International Affairs; John Kaye and Morris Solomon Ojalve from the School of Engineering; Charles Joseph Kokoski from the School of Pharmacy; Wolfgang Herbert Kraus from the Graduate School; Gust Andejo Ledakins from the Law School; Frank Nelson Miller from the School of Medicine.

The Senate, created last year to serve as liaison between the

Seaborg, AEC Chairman, Graduation Speaker

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, a Nobel prize winner in physics and present chairman of the powerful Atomic Energy Commission, will deliver the Commencement address to members of the June 1962 graduating classes Wednesday, June 6.

Dr. Seaborg, until last year the Chancellor of the University of California, will receive an honorary Doctor of Public Services degree at the Commencement exercises.

Four other individuals will be awarded honorary degrees by the University. Dr. Robert D. Calkins, president of Brookings Institute, will be awarded a Doctor of Laws degree. Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Defense in the Kennedy administration, will receive an honorary Doctor of Public Service degree. A retiring member of the Columbia University English Department, Dr. Marjorie Hope Nicolson, will be awarded a Doctor of Letters degree.

Cherry Tree

• YEARBOOKS will be available next Monday at the Yearbook office in the Student Union Annex, first floor. The office will be open for distribution for a week.

This year, for the first time, a member of the graduating classes will speak at Commencement. Joyce Ormsby, Outstanding Senior Woman, has been selected by the Faculty Senate to deliver a short address. The Senate's action was prompted by a suggestion from Student Council President Charlie Mays. Miss Ormsby has been President of the Pan Hellenic Council and of her sorority Kappa Kappa Gamma, a member of Mortar Board, the Student Life Committee, Phi Beta Kappa, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and is a General Motors Scholar.

Three University professors will be awarded Professor Emeritus status. Dr. Paul W. Bowman will become Emeritus Professor of Biology, Dr. George Nordlinger will become a Clinical Professor Emeritus in Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Dr. Don C. Faith will become Emeritus Professor of Educational Psychology. Dr. Faith, who is retiring as Director of Activities for Men, has been a professor of Educational Psychology at the University since 1959, and also has served as Director of Veterans Education. He received his degrees at the University after retiring from the Army with a rank of Brigadier General.

Five alumni who have achieved distinction in their chosen professions and brought honor to themselves and the University will receive Alumni Achievement Awards. They are Eva B. Adams, the director of the United States Mint; Edgar R. Baker vice-president of Time Incorporated; Dr. Orville E. May, vice-president of the Coca Cola Company of Atlanta, Georgia; Major General James L. Snyder, commanding general of Brooke Army Medical Center, Texas; and Hillery A. Tolson, assistant director of the National Parks Service of the Interior Department.

The Commencement exercises will be held in the University Yard. In case of bad weather they will be moved to Constitution Hall. The academic procession will form at 7:15 am, with admission by ticket only.

The Commencement exercises will be preceded by Baccalaureate Services at the Washington Cathedral 7:45 pm Sunday, June 3. The Reverend Alfred Schmalz, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Darien, Connecticut, will deliver the sermon. No ticket of admission is required and parents and friends of the graduates are cordially invited to attend.

An Awards Tea will be held Monday noon, June 4 in the Lower Lounge of Lisner Auditorium, during which those graduates who have received special prizes, or awards will be honored.

The President of the University and Mrs. Thomas Henry Carroll will receive members of the graduating classes and their parents at a reception in the Chinese Room of the Mayflower Hotel, 8:30-11 pm, Tuesday, June 5. The invitation includes the husband or wife of graduates who are married.

faculty and administration, and to allow the faculty a more formally articulate role in shaping University policy, is a self perpetuating body whose representatives are elected, by department, to sit with twenty-five of their fellows or serve on one of the various standing committees of the Senate.

Continuity is lent to the Senate by the ex officio role of the deans of the thirteen degree granting divisions of the University plus the Dean of Faculties John F. Latimer, University Provost Oswald S. Colclough, and University President Thomas Henry Carroll.

At the May 11 Senate meeting, the annual report of the executive committee, under the chairmanship of Professor Tupper, was read and the newly elected officers announced.

The committee on administrative matters, under Professor Bowman, announced the change in title of executive officer to chairman of the department and the expediting of information between deans and department chairmen. Also the Senate's recommendation for shorter hours of registration has been accepted. Hereafter, registration will begin on Thursdays and Fridays at twelve, not ten.

The committee on appointments, salaries, and promotion policies, with President Carroll as a moving spirit, has brought major fringe benefits for faculty members: free tuition at the University for sons and daughters of tenure members of the faculty and a major medical insurance plan.

Dr. Calabrisi's committee on public ceremonies helped considerably with President Carroll's suggestion for speeding up and giving more meaning to Commencement exercises and was instrumental in abolishing the Fall Commencement exercises altogether.

Inspired by Professor Grissom's committee on research, a Faculty Newsletter which would transmit at least twice a year to all members of the faculty information regarding books, papers, and important speeches authored by faculty members, has been brought into existence.

Pat On The Back

• THE HATCHET COMMENDS the University Young Republicans for a job well done. They have vigorously and enthusiastically contributed to campus activities by bringing Senators Goldwater and Tower to speak on campus, and by arranging a showing of the controversial "Operation Abolition" film.

The vigor of the YR's is in marked contrast to the Young Democrats campus branch. The YD's met once first semester to collect $1 dues then met twice more during second semester. One of these meetings lasted a whopping 10 minutes. If the present officers of the YD's lack the time or ability to organize a club that would exist more than in name only, perhaps a change is in order.

Unfortunately only one side of the liberal-conservative cleavage is being effectively presented on this campus. The Young Democrat club was organized with the idea that there are enough liberals on campus to respond to a politically oriented club and to work for it under capable leadership.

This situation should not continue next year. Newly elected Council Advocate Bob Aleshire should institute his campaign promise of "investigating deadwood organizations."

SDT, SAE Split Contest Prize

By Jeffrey Spencer

More than 27,000 flip-tops, minus boxes, caused a four-day hassle in the semi-annual Marlboro package contest.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with 12,743 legal entries, and Sigma Delta Tau, with 27,700 technically illegal ones, were declared co-winners of the contest which ended May 1. SAE and SDT were the only two entrants.

SDT's total entry, including several thousand complete packages, was 35,600.

With the groups offered a choice of two first prizes, SAE chose house intercom system and SDT accepted a Motorola television set.

The controversy centered on the official rules, published in the HATCHET one week before the contest deadline and allegedly read in a Pan-Hellenic Council meeting in February. The rules

ris, Commander, Alpine, Benson and Hedges and English Ovals.

There were no entrants in the individual contest, which accepted only Alpines.

Elections Complaint

To The Editors:

For one who has worked in a national campaign, and who is a graduate student (Government), the recent campaign to vest a certain few with student body titles was amazing and perhaps charming.

First, support was sought only on election day with a sudden harassment to vote. The lack of polish and sophistication was overcome only by the glitter of balloons and the litter of trash on sidewalks and under doors.

Second, the already busy graduate student was suddenly informed that these were going to be programs and activities for him to participate in as though he were needed in the "frivolity" of campus life.

Third, while outside he had just been told the candidate had polish, knowledge, and the sophistication necessary for dealing with the administration (really) his campaigners were out beating up an ancient Plymouth and yelling cheers so loudly that classes were all but disrupted. It was more reminiscent of a "ban the bomb" sit down at AEC or UN in New York.

Fourth, absence of candidates, sincerity, knowledge, tact, poise and dignity, where applicable, was noticeable among the fervent supporters.

If MA candidates were won over by these "sophomoric" displays it is a wonder. That capable leaders or representatives worthy of graduate level support could have been elected during such a melee is perhaps an idealistic hope.

As for the quest for graduate support may I suggest that you please be just a slight bit more subtle and a lot more quiet about it next year and perhaps take a few lessons from further downtown.

stated that entries must consist of (whole) packages, although in previous contests flip-tops without the rest of the package were accepted.

SAE brought its entry in paper bags—more than 250 of them—containing 50 packages each. But SDT's entry, considerably less bulky though more prolific, brought protests from SAE representatives, who demanded a strict interpretation of the rules.

Al Alls, the representative for the Philip Morris Co., and Ted Thomas, campus representative, refused to declare a winner immediately. Four days later, the groups were announced co-winners.

Mr. Alls, who handles the package contest at five campuses including the University, said that SDT's entry of 35,600 was the largest in the history of area contests.

Packages were accepted for Marlboro, Parliament, Philip Mor-

Dancers Travel

• THE MODERN DANCE Production Groups of the University became a travelling troupe this year by performing in Middleburg, Virginia, for two groups of about 300 seventh graders from all over Loudoun County. This first venture off campus was met with enthusiastic response by the young students who had the opportunity to speak with the dancers after each of the performances which were titled, "The Language of Movement: Dance."

The groups were equally well received by ninety high school seniors from the District who were participating in a Humanities Seminar. Their performance at the Washington and Lee High School was titled "Modernism in Dance." The dancers have been asked to perform again next year for the whole student body of the high school.

Newly elected overall manager of the group is Virginia Wise. Other new managers are Sue Swartz, Sandie Olson, and Betsy Rogers.

Appointed managers for next year are Barbara Beccles, art; Ellen Glickenstein, promotion and Rosemary Nigrelli, make-up. Co-managers of press publicity are Fred Sumner and Angie Naumann.

Colortone Scholarship

Journalism Scholarship

• A $500 JOURNALISM scholarship has been established in memory of the Washington newsman, Herman A. Lowe, who died in 1961.

The Sigma Delta Chi Foundation of Washington will award the first annual scholarship in June for the 1962-63 academic year.

The award will go to a student who intends to follow journalism as a career and who presently is a sophomore or junior at American, Catholic, Georgetown, George Washington or Howard universities, or at the University of Maryland.

E. W. Scripps, II, vice president of Scripps-Howard newspapers and a former national president of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism honorary, said the deadline for applications for the first award is May 26.

The winner of the first scholarship will be announced June 13 at the annual banquet of the Washington Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi of which Mr. Lowe was a member.

Machine Design Award

• SENIOR PETER K. Spangler has been given the Machine Design Award, established by the Industrial Press of New York City for students in over one hundred engineering schools who have done outstanding undergraduate work.

Mr. Spangler will receive a copy of Machinery's Handbook, and a year's subscription to Machinery, an engineering magazine.

Test Tryout

• IN A PROGRAM to "test the test, not the student" the University's mathematics department has participated in a nation-wide tryout of preliminary versions of achievement tests developed by Educational Testing Service. They helped determine if questions are clear enough and neither to easy nor too difficult.

Vespa Tour

Phi Beta Kappa Taps 13 Scholars

• THIRTEEN OUTSTANDING scholars have been elected to membership in the University's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the national honor society recognizing "outstanding intellectual capacity well employed." Of the nine men and four women, eleven are seniors and two, Michael Madison and Stanley Remsberg, are juniors.

Deanne C. Siemer, a senior majoring in International Affairs, and one of the two editors of the 1961-62 HATCHET, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Siemer of Orchard Park, New York, both of whom are also Phi Beta members. Before coming to the University, Deanne was graduated from Orchard Park High School. She attended the University of Vermont where she was a member and rush chairman of Delta

Deanne Siemer

Delta Delta sorority, skied on the women's varsity team and ranked third in her class for freshman and sophomore years. Next year she will attend the University of Hawaii's East-West Center on a two-year graduate fellowship to study Far Eastern Affairs.

At the University she is president of Wandering Greeks; publicity director of the Women's Athletic Association, vice president of Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary and a student assistant in the University's Office of Public Relations. In addition, she holds memberships in Delphi, sorority women's honorary; Alpha Lambda Delta; the Madison Hall Dormitory Council; the University Publications Committee; the Student Life Committee; the Inter-sorority Athletic Board; and the Panhellenic Council. This past November, she was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Rhoda B. Miller

Rhoda Baynard Miller, also a Delta Delta Delta sorority transfer, holder of Fulbright Grant to study at the French University of Dijon in the year 1962-63, is a senior majoring in French Language and Literature and planning either to teach or to do government language work. At the University she was vice-president and president of the Russian Language Club, and she has held memberships in the French Club, the Dormitory Council at Madison Hall, the Canterbury Club, and the Russian Chorus. She has held two scholarships: the Delta Delta Delta Scholarship in 1961-62. In 1961 she was awarded the Goddard Award in French achievement. Before attending the University, she was graduated from Greensboro High School in Greensboro, North Carolina and attended the Florida State University for one year.

Michael Madison

Michael Madison, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Madison of Washington, is a junior majoring in Economics and planning to enter law school. Holder of a four-year full-tuition scholarship to the University, he was a member of Alpha Theta Nu, and of the debate team. For two years he was the president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary. Before attending the University, he attended Calvin Coolidge High School, where he was the valedictorian of his graduating class.

Stanley R. Remsberg, co-editor of the 1962-63 HATCHET and the President of Omicron Delta Kappa for 1962-63, is a junior majoring in International Affairs. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Remsberg of El Dorado, Kansas, Stanley attends the University on a four year alumni scholarship after graduating from El Dorado High School. He was the program director of the Student Council, the past news editor of the HATCHET, and the vice president of the Eosinian Debate Society. In addition he holds memberships in Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Theta Nu, Omicron Delta Kappa, Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic fraternity, and Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary. He is a member and past treasurer of Sigma Chi social fraternity, and he has represented the University at the National Invitational Debate Tournament at West Point.

John Gregory

John Gregory, son of Mrs. Estelle H. Gregory of Washington, is a mathematics major planning a career in mathematics. A graduate of Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School, he is a member of Sigma Pi Sigma, national physics fraternity, and of the Chess Club.

Martin Vester Reece is a senior majoring in American Thought and Civilization planning a career in secondary school or college teaching. A graduate of Meridian High School in Meridian, Mississippi, Martin has been the Chairman of the University Film Society, a member of the University Cultural Foundation, and a staff member of the POTOMAC, the student's literary magazine.

Martin Reece

Arlene Kevorkian was elected University May Queen by vote of all the women students; that honor goes to the girl who has done the most to promote student activities on campus. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kevorkian of Washington, Arlene is a Secondary Education major and will teach mathematics in Montgomery County schools next year. After graduating from Woodrow Wilson High School, she held a Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Scholarship and a Zonta Club of Washington Scholarship while attending the University. Seeming to collect presidencies, she has been the president of Mortar Board, Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority, Delphi, and Big Sis, upperclass women's orientation organization for incoming women students. She has served as co-chairman of Holiday

Arlene Kevorkian

Season and as a junior advisor at Madison Hall dormitory. Holding memberships in Tassels; Alpha Theta Nu, scholarship holder's honorary; and Pi Lambda Theta, education society, Arlene was elected to appear in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges and was also a recipient of the I.M. Daly Award.

Stephen J. Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Newman of Washington, is a senior majoring in Zoology and will enter Georgetown Medical School next year. Steve has been the president of Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's scholastic and service honorary, and the captain of the Rifle Team; in Eta Sigma, Alpha Theta Nu, and Old Men, the upperclass men's organization to assist incoming men students, the Pre-medical Society, and the Interfraternity Council. A member of the Board of Governors of the Order of Scarlet, the sophomore and junior service honorary, he was awarded the Order of Scarlet's Award for its outstanding member in 1961-62. A past assistant sports editor for the HATCHET, Steve was this year elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Miss Lilien Filipovitch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milenko Filipovitch of Washington, is a senior majoring in the History of Art, planning to teach art history. A homecoming queen finalist, she has been the president of Delta

• LED BY AWARD-winning Bernard Leviss, who hails from Stamford, Connecticut, the Colonial golf crew placed at the bottom of the Southern Conference heap for the second time in as many years.

In the tournament held at Myrtle Beach, S.C., the Colonials seemed to be victim of sabotage. "Everytime he hit a good one down the fairway," according to Steve Rubin, "the opposing team snuck trees out into the middle of the fairway. Bad breaks, nothing but bad breaks . . ."

The Colonial line-up was led by Seth Rosen, also hailing from Stamford, Steve Rubin, Tommie Mellwood Gutermann, Jeffrey Yaknitz Young, and Bernard Leviss carrying up the rear.

Schools entered into the tournament bore a familiar ring: Furman, VPI, Davidson, Citadel, VMI, W&M, West Virginia . . . and the Colonials.

Scores for the two day tourney were record-breaking. That is, the Colonials broke their record-setting losing margin of last year. Scores by the individuals were indicative. Seth shot 89-86-175, Steve had 84-78-162, Mellwood blasted an 89-83-172, Li'l Yak had 93-90-183, and Bernard's hot putter salvaged him an interesting 93-94-187, which was good for an award.

Bernard was the recipient of the "Booby Prize," annually awarded to the Colonial with the highest score. Last year's award went to ex-Colonial golfer Herbie Goldblatt.

INTERESTING STORIES DEPARTMENT: Jeffrey Young suffered a traumatic experience on the sixth hole his first day out during a practice round. Jeff had a little difficulty surmounting a water trap that dominated the center of the fairway. In fact, he popped four straight balls into the middle of the swampy lake. In a fit of desperation he waded into the lake in search of the errant balls. But to Jeffrey's dismay, he was spotted by a crocodile, who scented a good thing, and set out in pursuit. Jeff ran fast, very fast.

fine throw held Bentzman to a double. With the tying run on second, Ezrin proceeded to get the next two Lawyers on infield pop-ups and wrap up the championship.

In the B League finals, PhiSD, behind the fine pitching of Jay Baraff, downed TKE, with Jeff Feldman pitching. Once again it was a battle of undefeated ballclubs. Both teams had won their earlier games to get them to the championships.

TKE jumped out to a one-run lead in the top of the first but PhiSD came right back with two runs of their own in the bottom of the second to take the lead. Both Baraff and Feldman retired the side scorelessly in the third.

In the bottom of the fourth Charley Metterick cracked out a two-run homer to give the Phi Sigs a 4-1 margin. A fine play by Joel Schulman at the plate, surviving a head-on collision with Jon Feldman, choked off a potential TKE rally. TKE had scored one run on an infield grounder when Feldman tried to score from second. He was out at the plate. Baraff held on to his 4-2 advantage to notch the B League crown for PhiSD.

In the overall intramural standings DTD placed first with SAE in second and AEP, by virtue of their softball championship, a close third.

Barry Young of AEP; and John Whitting of Delt were named the outstanding intramural athletes. The award is based on overall participation in all the intramural events and individual excellence.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

This is the final column of my eighth year of writing for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and this year, as in every preceding year, when I come to the last column of the season, I come to a problem.

My contract with the makers of Marlboro calls for me to write a humor column and, truly, I do the best I can—all things considered, I am not, I should explain, a jolly man by nature. Why should I be? First of all, I am shorter than everybody. Second, there are moths in my cashmere jacket. Third, I work in television.

All the same, when it comes time to write this column, I light a good Marlboro Cigarette, put aside my trauma, and try with all the strength in my tiny body to make some jokes. Sometimes it works better than others, but on the last column of the year, it just flatly doesn't work at all.

Even in the very beginning this was true—and that, you will recall, was eight years ago when I was relatively young and strong and had not yet developed that nasty knock in my transmission. Well do I remember sitting down to write the final column of my first year. Day followed barren day, and not a yock, not a boff, not a singer did I produce. I was about to give up humor and take a job selling mechanical dogs when all of a sudden, in a blinding flash, I realized why I couldn't think of any joke!

I leapt up from my typewriter and ran as fast as my little fat legs would carry me to the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and I tugged my forelock, and I said, "Sir, I am well aware that you have engaged me to write a humor column, but today, as I approach the final column of the season, I am far too misty to be funny, for the final column of the season is, after all, a leave-taking, and when I think of saying goodbye to my audience—the swellest audience any columnist ever had—the college students of America—wonderful human beings, every man and woman of them—wise but kindly—astute but compassionate—perspicacious but forbearing—when, sir, I think of saying goodbye to such an audience, I am too shook up even to consider levity, and so I ask you, sir, to let me, in the final column of the year, forego humor and instead write a simple, dignified, straightforward farewell."

Then I took out my bandanna, wiped my eyes, ears, nose, and throat and waited for a reply from the makers of Marlboro.

They sat around the polished board room table, the makers, their handsome brows knit in concentration, puffing thoughtfully on the Marlboros in their tattooed hands. At length they spoke. "Yes," they said simply.

I never doubted they would say yes. People who make a cigarette as good as Marlboro must themselves be good. People who lavish such care on blending tobaccos so mild and flavorful, on devising a filter so clean and white, on boxing a flip-top box so flip-top, on packing a soft pack so soft—people like that are one hundred percent with me!

And so from that day forward, the final column of the year—including the one you are, I devoutly hope, now reading—makes no attempt to be funny, but is instead a simple thank you and au revoir.

Thank you and au revoir, makers of Marlboro. The memory of our eight years together will remain ever fresh in my heart, and I would like to state for all the world to hear that if you want me back again next year, I shall expect a substantial raise in salary.

Thank you and au revoir, college students of America. May good luck attend all your ventures. Stay well. Stay happy. Stay loose.

© 1962 Max Shulman

Small Max has said it all. We, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, can only add a heartfelt second chorus: Stay well. Stay happy. Stay loose.

Racquetmen Win SC; Green Still Unbeaten

by Norman Olin

• AFTER A ONE year's lapse, the Colonial tennis team recaptured the Southern championship over defending titlist The Citadel. George Washington has now won the title in six out of the last seven years, and appears ready to begin another reign of at least three years.

On a day when both the No. 1 and No. 2 men, Buddy Goeltz and Harvey Harrison, were losing in the finals, the Buff men still were able to garner enough points, 20, to top their nearest rivals by four. A single point was awarded for each win in singles and doubles matches.

Living up to Coach Bill Shreve's flat-pre-tourney prediction that his squad should win, if they played like they did in the Cherry Blossom Tournament the week before. The Colonials blasted their way to victory by winning 20 out of a maximum 27 matches.

Hot Start

GW got off to a hot start on the first day sweeping all six singles matches and all three doubles matches.

Alan Green had the toughest match as he bested West Virginia's Steve Levine, a Washington, D.C., boy, by 7-5, 6-4, 6-1. In doubles, Steve Kahn and Mark Sherry came from behind to beat Virginia Tech's team of Durkovic and Walker, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0.

First round scores showed GW on top with nine points, Citadel next with seven, Furman six, VMI and William and Mary five each, West Va. four, Davidson three, Va. Tech one and Richmond zero.

GW picked up another point on the second day by winning four out of six singles and all three doubles. Only Jerry Rudy and Steve Kahn fell by the wayside. Harvey Harrison had to battle back from a disastrous first set in order to defeat Jim Bowkin of Furman, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

Shoo-In

With 16 points, the Colonials were a shoo-in for the title as The Citadel entered the final with 13 points but only five finalists.

But on the final day, Goeltz and Harrison lost their matches. Furman's Steve Watson handed Goeltz his first conference loss of the year, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4 in the No. 1 singles. Harrison lost to Stuart Levy of The Citadel, 2-6, 6-0, 7-5.

Then Alan Green, who didn't lose a match all year, and Mark Sherry came through to sew it up by beating the last two Citadel finalists. Green topped Jack Scott,

ASTT Director

• DR. JOHN E. CLAYTON, associate professor of business administration at the University, has been named to succeed Dr. Virgil D. Cover of Syracuse University as director of education of the American Society of Traffic and Transportation. As director of education, it is Dr. Clayton's responsibility to administer the examination program of the Society and to serve as editor of the society's publication, The Transportation Journal.

Dr. Clayton has served in the last year as associate director of education of the society.

9-7, 6-2, and Sherry came from behind to stop Steve Holland, 6-8, 6-0, 6-3. Two more doubles victories gave the Colonials their final tourney-winning total.

Colonial prospects for the future remain bright as all six players from this year's championship team will return next season. Sherry will be the only senior, while the other five will be juniors.

Rowers Place In Dad Vail

• THE GEORGE WASHINGTON Crew rowed for the first time this year at the Dad Vail Regatta on the Schuylkill River, Philadelphia, last Saturday. The race was an affair of the heart, no logic can explain blisters on the hands and callouses on the seat, exercised there at the God-awful o'clock of 5:45 every week day morning, by rewards or thoughts of reward.

Crew is not one of the University's major sports. Some at GW may never have attended a crew event and consequently be unfamiliar with crew organization and racing regulations. The crew is composed of eight men and a coxswain. The bow and all odd numbered row starboard while stroke and all even numbered oarsmen row port, the ninth man in the boat is the coxswain, the only man facing forward, he steers and is in complete command when the boat is under way. Races are held in the spring of the year, usually on Saturday afternoons. The distance rowed 1 and 5/6 of a mile, the Henley distance. The race is usually with the sterns of all the shells being held by men in anchored dinghies at the starting line. These "stakeboats" are spaced so that the crews start off in the correct lanes regardless of weather. The beginning of the race, after the referee's call of—"Are You Ready? Ready all. ROW"—is taken at a high stroke, usually around 35 or 40 a minute. After this start, which runs sometimes as long as a minute, the stroke is stepped down to 20 or 25 which the shell holds for the major portion of the race. In the last quarter-mile the coxswain and "stroke" by rearrangement sprint to as high as an efficient stroke as can be maintained, sometimes 35 of 40 or more. The winning crew except in cup races receives the shirts of the defeated crew.

The Dad Vail Regatta was organized among colleges and universities in which crew wasn't a major sport. Amherst College, Drexel Institute of Technology, Fordham, Purdue, Georgetown, American, Howard, St. Joseph's University, and Marietta College. The total starting field included 54 college boats, the largest in the 24 years of the Dad Vail's existence.

AEPi CATCHER PETE Constantine can't put the tag on in time as a DThPhi baserunner crosses the plate. The Apes won the Mural A League championship 9-8, on a five-run uprising in the top of the seventh.

AEPi, PHiSD Win Mural Softball

• AEPi SQUEAKED OUT a 9-8 last inning win over DThPhi to take the A League softball championship for the second year in a row. PhiSD downed TKE 4-2 for the B League crown.

It was a long day for the Lawyers. They won a scheduled game over PIKA via the easy forfeit route and then made short work of DTD behind the pitching of Jay Shinsky. In their last game of the season the Lawyers played undefeated SAE for the right to meet AEPi in the playoffs.

The game was a pitchers duel for the first few innings as Shinsky and SAE's Henry Frais blanked the side for three innings. DThPhi struck first blood on a series of SAE miscues. Pete Gallagher dropped Bill Watkinson's foul pop up giving him another life. Watkinson then drilled a hard grounder to second, beat it out and took second as the throw went into the dirt. After Bentzman fanned, Dick Beyda poked a single through the infield to give the Lawyers their margin of victory.

Behind the strong-arm pitching of Shinsky and a fine scoop of a low throw at first by Beyda to save a run and choke off a SAE threat, the Lawyers notched their all-important victory 4-0. Some long-ball hitting on the part of Haines, Steinmetz and Watkinson plus a few SAE miscues provided the victory.

In the championship game Shinsky started for the Lawyers against AEPi's Al Ezrin. The Apes had the same team that coped the intramural trophy last season. They had won their two games by forfeit.

Shinsky served notice to AEPi that this was a championship ballgame by setting the side down in order in the top of the first inning. But Ezrin couldn't follow suit as he was touched for two runs in the bottom of the first. Haines led off the Lawyer's attack with a line double to right-center. Ezrin then got the next two batters, Steinmetz and Mennis, to pop up. Watkinson worked for a walk and Bentzman followed with a two-base smash up the alley in left field scoring two. Ezrin got Beyda on a grounder to second but the damage had been done.

The Apes managed to get one run back in their half of the second as Seth Rosen opened with a single up the middle. Rosen took second on a wild pitch and advanced to third as Pete Constantine grounded out to short. Alan Wise drew a base on balls and reached second on another wild pitch. Dave Segal Saunders then lifted a fly ball to left scoring Rosen on the tag-up and moving Wise to third. But Ezrin couldn't bring him in as he grounded out to short to end the inning.

The Lawyers struck back for four more in the bottom of the second. Shinsky led off with a walk and came all the way home on Schultz's triple. Ezrin then got the next two batters but Steinmetz drove in the runner from third with a single. Mennis smashed a drive over the left fielder's head for a four-bagger.

The Apes came back again in this see-saw battle to chalk up three runs of their own. Larry Edelman and Bob Hirsch, on base on walks, rode home on Jack Goldberg's three-run homer over the left fielder's head to make the score 6-4 in favor of DThPhi.

The Lawyers picked up another run in the third on Bentzman's triple and a sacrifice fly and one in the fourth on doubles by Daisley and Mennis to give them an 8-4 lead going into the top of the seventh. The Apes had been blanked in the four, fifth and sixth by a series of DThPhi hurlers. Ezrin held the Lawyers scoreless in the fifth and sixth.

In the top of the seventh, their last licks, Saunders led off the Ape rally with a single to right field. Ezrin dropped a beautiful bunt that caught the third baseman flatfooted and it went for a base hit. Larry Edelman beat out a slow roller to short by half a step to load the bases. Bob Hirsch then worked Shinsky for a walk to drive in a run, making the score 8-5. Goldberg lined a single over short, driving in two more runs and moving Ezrin to third. Goldberg took second on the throw. Marty Gersten lofted a fly to left with Ezrin successfully tagging up to knot the score. Goldberg moved to third on the throw to the plate. Then Rosen capped the AEPi comeback as he lifted a foul fly down the first base line. Beyda hauled in the ball on the run but had no chance to get Goldberg as he tagged up and came across the winning run.

The Lawyers didn't go quietly in their half of the seventh. After Watkinson grounded out to third, Bentzman drilled a drive between the left and center fielders. Gersten ran the ball down and his
